KEYSER, WEST VIRGINIA - FALL, 1969

"Academy Hall" Open for Fall Term; Formal Dedication Planned Later

Alumni who return to the campus for Homecoming this year will undoubtedly be pleased to see the addition of a beautiful new building, constructed at a cost of some $800,000.

Located at the south end of the old Administration Building (in the area formerly used for the tennis courts and later a parking lot), the structure has been given the tentative name of "Academy Hall."

It houses the departments of commerce, journalism, technical engineering, and mathematics as well as offices for the Computer Center. Dr. Todd H. Bullard, expressing the hope that with the new facilities the college will be able to extend its options for other two-year occupational programs, indicates that the building has been designed to meet the college's immediate facilitative needs as well as those projected for the next decade.

Formal dedication ceremonies, he said, are being planned for either later in the fall or in the early spring.

The name, which was chosen by a faculty committee, chaired by Dr. Bullard, awaits approval of the Board of Regents before it becomes official. He said that Academy Hall embodies two factors: recognition of the historic routes of the institution and also the contemporary nature of the college. The school, itself, was once known as an Academy or Prep School and, on the other hand, it is also a facility for contemporary advancements in the ever-challenging world of today. The committee feels that the name commemorates Potomac State's transition from academy status to college and that the name "academy" also refers to "scholars pursuing truth."

The building was planned by Robert J. Bennett Associates, of Morgantown, the architect who also designed the Library and Friend Hall. The contractor was Carl Belt, Inc., of Cumberland, Md.

Special features of the structure include air-conditioning, large lecture rooms, and a carpeted discussion room referred to as the "Pit Room."

Workmen are now in the process of renovating the top floor

Full-time students total 635 including 367 freshmen and 268 sophomores. Of these there are 421 men (242 freshmen, 179 sophomores) and 214 women (125 freshmen, 89 sophomores).

Bruce Grad Gets Scholarship From Alumni Foundation

Mark G. L. Angle, freshman journalism major from Westerport, has been awarded an Alumni Foundation Scholarship for 1969-70.

Angle is a graduate of Bruce High School where he was active in the National Honor Society and the Student Council. He was editor of the school paper during his senior year and also participated in football, wrestling, and baseball.

A sister, Barbara, held an Alumni Scholarship from 1965 to 1967.

Homecoming, Parents Day Set Nov. 7-8

Alumni returning to the Potomac State College campus this fall may take advantage of a dual celebration as their Alma Mater greets not only former students but parents of those presently on campus in a combined Homecoming-Parents' Day during the weekend of November 7-8.

The tentative schedule of events calls for a homecoming parade sponsored by the Circle K Club on Friday evening, rather than Saturday morning as in the past. A bonfire and weiner roast for students, parents, alumni, and faculty will be held following the parade.

Parents and alumni will have a chance to mingle at a proposed registration and coffee hour on Saturday morning. A period in the forenoon will be set aside to permit parents and alumni to visit the various campus buildings with their sons and daughters and meet the instructors. The Alumni Association luncheon is scheduled for noon in Kelley Armory at which time two persons will be elected to the Board of Directors.

A highlight of the day will be the Homecoming football game in which the Catamounts will meet Baltimore Community College. Following the game, there will be a reception open to all at the Student Union.

A dance sponsored by the Student Government at the Armory will complete the two-day schedule of activities.

Laureate Scholars

Four Potomac State students have been named Laureate Scholars for the current school year.

The two sophomores are Carole Anne Kuykendall, Keyser, and Judith Saunders, Ravenswood. The two freshmen are Roseanna McCoy, Ravenswood, and Lana Kay McLaughlin, Keyser.

Funeral services were conducted May 22 for Mrs. Margaret Liller Stayman, '07, of Dunedin, Fla., who died May 18 in Philadelphia at the age of 79. She was the widow of Joseph W. Stayman, president of Potomac State College for 24 years prior to 1946 when they went to Jamestown, N.Y., where he was president of Jamestown Business College for several years.

A native of Keyser, Mrs. Stayman was a daughter of the late William and Martha (Kalbaugh) Liller.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Shelley Roblee, Jamestown; a son, Dr. Joseph W. Stayman Jr., Philadelphia; three sisters, Mrs. Harry F. Baughman, Philadelphia, Mrs. C. P. Renick, Haddenfield, N.J., and Mrs. Dakin Morehouse, of Dunedin; two brothers, Porter Liller, Dunedin, and C. K. Liller, Atlanta, and eight grandchildren.

a new office suite for the Director of Student Affairs, and an office for the Counseling Center including a testing area. There will also be space available for additional offices as staff members are added.

Classrooms in the basement floor of the Administration Building will also be converted next summer into offices for the Mathematics Department and the Division of Social Sciences. Eventually there will be only two classrooms left in the Ad Building, those used by Prof. Orval Anderson and Prof. J. Kenna Burke.

With these changes, the administration feels confident that the college will be able to meet its academic enrollment requirements for the next 12 years although at the same time recognizing eventual needs for additions in the Department of Physical Education and campus housing.

Romney Kiwanis Donates To Foundation

Edward Bright, '37, representing the Kiwanis Club of Romney, is shown above presenting a check to Mrs. Dawn Jeffries, president of the Alumni Foundation. Looking on is Mrs. Mary Evelyn Coffman, Director of Alumni Affairs. The Kiwanis Club was closing out its various accounts as it went on an inactive basis and voted to contribute the money to the alumni scholarship program. This is the second gift received by the Foundation from the Romney Kiwanians.

Both Faculty, Students To Comprise Committee on Formation of Policy

Both faculty and students are to play an integral part in the policy-making procedures of the college as a result of revised committee structure through which some 10 major committees have been unified into one functioning group.

President Todd Hupp Bullard has stated that the various committees, each dealing specifically with some phase of institutional life, will provide a broader base of development in policies affecting the college.

A study regarding formation of such a committee was completed last fall but was delayed in implementation until Dr. Bullard's return to the campus following a year's leave of absence during which time he was a visiting professor of higher education at the University of Michigan.

It is hoped that through the new system a more complete participation in policy formation can be achieved. Student Government will nominate four students, freshmen and sophomores, for each of the committees. Faculty members within each committee will then select two of the students to participate. Of the 10 committees established students will serve on all but three, those being of such a confidential nature in regard to students that it was considered undesirable to include students. They are the committees on admissions, financial aid, and academic standards.

The other committees will be complementary education; curriculum, long-range planning, athletics, instruction, library, and student life.

Also growing out of the committee's study was the organization of a new Faculty Executive Committee. Elected to serve were the following: Prof. Elizabeth P. Hanlin, three years; Prof. William E. Michael, Prof. Orval J. Anderson, two years; and for one year, Dr. Dallas B. Shaffer and Dr. Allen E. Murphy. Both President Bullard and Dean James T. Handlan will be ex-officio members.

Functions outlined for the committee are: to act as a point of reference for grievances, to review policy proposals from the standing committees before such proposals go before the entire faculty, to serve the college president in an advisory capacity as well as provide a sounding board for faculty opinion, to exercise the policy proposing func-

Coach Lough Hints He May Retire At End of Current Academic Year

Hinting that he will probably hang up his spikes in retirement at the conclusion of the 1969-70 academic year, Coach Dana G. (Horse) Lough has embarked upon on his 35th year as Athletic Director and head coach in football and basketball at Potomac State College.

He has had football teams for 32 of those years missing only three years during the early forties when World War II resulted in abolishment of the sport on the campus.

The recent issue of the campus newspaper, the Pasquino, points out that if and when he does retire, his will be a tough sports record to surpass, much less match, anywhere in the nation.

He compiled an enviable personal record as an athlete both while a student at Potomac State and West Virginia University and his record as a professional player with the old Ironton (Ohio) Tanks.

Add to his coaching record of these 35 years here, his earlier years at Chesapeake (Ohio), Piedmont, and Keyser High Schools and it results in something close to half a century.

Sportswriters have written hundreds of columns about the accomplishments of his many teams throughout these years including many state championships. And the boys he coached and trained to become coaches, themselves, read like a Who's Who in American Sports.

He smiles with pride when he recalls that currently coaching in the area alone are former Catamount players: Ed Beams, Petersburg; James Broome, Keyser; Jerry Calhoun, Beall (Forestburg); James Fazzalore, Ridgeley; Tom Harman, Valley (Lonaconing); Jack Lear, Northern (Accident); Tom Oglebay, Bruce (Westernport); Don Peters, Romney; and James Thompson, Keyser.
